THE COURT PAINTERS OF THE GRAND MOGULS

BY LAURENCE BINYON

WITH HISTORICAL INTRODUCTION AND NOTES BY

T. W. ARNOLD

4to., with 40 illustrations in colour and monochrome; cloth 1921

Price £4. 4s.

"The materials for the study of the history of the royal house are abundant and readily accessible, in Persian annals, a large proportion of which have been translated into English, and in contemporary records by English, French, and Italian visitors to their court, and these sources have been industriously investigated, and elucidated by a number of modern historians, with marked ability and success. But Indian history still appeals to but a narrow circle of readers, and it has been judged that the present collection of reproductions of the work of Indian artists may usefully be introduced, by a brief historical sketch, to those students of Indian painting who are perplexed by the unfamiliarity of oriental names, but may be interested to know something of the personalities whose portraiture appeals to their artistic feeling."—From the Introduction.

La Condamine was a member of the expedition sent to Peru by the French Academy of Science to determine the curvature of the earth. He returned to Europe over the Andes and by nearly the whole length of the Amazons. At Cuenca an attack was made on the expedition by the inhabitants, the reason being the conduct of Seniergues, one of the members, who was killed. In the above La Condamine gives a justification of his behaviour, together with the evidence given at the subsequent enquiry.

A long and extremely interesting confidential report of the state of the American colonies, written in order that the home authorities might have an efficient grasp of the situation which had arisen in those parts of America, away from the seaboard, where trouble was occurring with both Indians and French, after the complete military occupation of Canada by British forces. The state of the Mississippi and the adjacent country, together with the strength of the plantations and of the French garrisons, is fully described, and also the attitude and fighting values of the Cherokees, the Choctaws, and the Creeks. The report includes suggestions for the future governance of the country, and must have been of the utmost value to the governing powers in England, though probably, as with many another report, it was pigeon-holed and forgotten.

48	PRESCOTT (Robert). Governor of Canada and British General, 1725-1816. The Complete Series of Letter Books, both Inward and Outward, covering his period of Governorship from 1796 to 1799, with other papers of importance both before and after these dates. 24 volumes, folio; old half rough calf 1796-1801	450	0	0

An important and enluminating series of correspondence covering a period when the internal politics of Canada were in the melting pot. The racial schism between the settlers of British and of French origin, the tendency for the British to treat the colony as conquered ground to the detriment of the just aspirations of the French inhabitants, and the entire lack of understanding on the part of the governor for the French views, amounting at times almost to contempt, give a wonderful idea of the difficulties of the infant colony.

To the historian such a mass of correspondence of a period of which little is known, and still less is written, is of the highest interest, containing as it does, material unobtainable elsewhere which, when pieced together, reveals an important phase in the transition of the original semi-autocratic government to the present all-embracing franchise.

It would seem that Prescott retained these letter books in anticipation of an official enquiry into his recall from Canada.

LIST OF CONTENTS:

SECRET CORRESPONDENCE. From Aug. 6th, 1796, to July 4th, 1799. 2 vols., folio, 140 pages of MS.

These two volumes contain confidential information which cannot be found elsewhere. It includes reports to Home Authorities and others on the contemplated invasion of Canada by the French (who were to send a fleet to assist), the measures and counter-espionage work to counter this, the propaganda of the French among the Indians, detailed accounts of the obscure dealings in waste lands on the part of a clique of the highest of the permanent officials of the colony, the endeavours to create a more loyalist class of settler in order to make the colony more stable, recommendations for government appointments, etc., etc.

LETTERS FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE. From July 17th, 1793, to Aug. 2nd, 1798. 2 vols., folio, 243 pages of MS.

A complete series of instructions and dispatches sent by the Home Government, including the more important of those received by Lord Dorchester, the preceding Governor. Among these are dispatches relative to the boundary question with the U.S., which had to a large extent been forced by the demands of our Indian allies. Others deal in detail with the disposal and settlement of unoccupied lands, others again give secret information from all parts on the McLean affair, a threatened attack on the Lower Province by men of Vermont, assisted by the French.

COPIES OF LETTERS RECEIVED FROM ROBERT LISTON, Ambassador in the United States. From June 25th, 1796, to June 13th, 1799. One volume, folio, 76 pages of MS.

The letters include reports of diplomatic conversations with Federal officials. Secret information of confidential agents on the activities of persons in the pay of the French who were endeavouring to tamper with the loyalty of Canadians of French origin. Advantage was taken of this propaganda by a shrewd inhabitant of Vermont, one Ira Allen. Arms were required for the State Militia, of which Allen was one of the leaders. Britain was at war with France at the time, therefore he went to Paris and purchased very cheaply twenty thousand stands of arms on condition that they should be landed to disaffected Canadians. News of his dealings with the French Government reached England, and the ship on which the arms were conveyed was captured by a British man-of-war. It required much explanation before the arms could be released.

Official letters, in many cases enclosing reports of various occurrences, addressed to the Duke of Portland, Secretary of State, the Commissioners for His Majesty's Customs, Treasury officials, and others. Among the many interesting items is a seven page report by J. Sewell, the Attorney General of Lower Canada, on the riots at Montreal, due to the carrying out of the Road Act; a nine page speech in Council by Joseph Brant, Chief of the Five Nations, regarding the grant of land made to the Indians on the Grand River by General Haldimand; detailed suggestions relative to the future granting of lands, two plans being put forward with observations of the advantages and disadvantages of each plan; suggestions by James McGill for a proposed survey of the upper waters of the Mississippi by Commissioners in conjunction with representatives of the United States, and further suggestions on the same subject by John Richardson; several long letters containing plans or suggestions for straightening out the muddle into which the land question had fallen (one suggestion was that rent should be paid in corn or in the gold value of corn, corn being a more stable value than gold). The final letters are in Prescott's own hand, and consist chiefly of reiterated requests for an investigation into the reasons of his recall.

COPIES AND EXTRACTS OF LETTERS AND DOCUMENTS of the preceding administration. From Sept. 16th, 1791, to Dec. 26th, 1794. One vol., folio, 62 pages of MS.

The most important letters and instructions arrived during Lord Dorchester's régime. These were obviously given to Governor Prescott for his guidance during his term of office.

Apparently correspondence on this subject was for a short time entered in this volume separately, but the practice was soon discontinued.

COPIES OF REQUISITIONS, Ordnance Issues, and Returns of Ordnance. From July 13th, 1796, to July 19th, 1799. One volume, folio, 140 pages of MS.

with others . . . The fifth, Nauigations, Voyages, Traffiques, Discoueries, of the English Nation in the Easterne parts of the World . . . London, Printed by William Stansby for Henrie Fetherstone . . . 1625. (Vol. V, title:) Purchas his Pilgrimage. Or Relations Of The World And The Religions Obserued in all Ages and places Discouered, from the Creation vnto this Present . . . The fourth Edition, much enlarged . . . London, Printed by William Stansby for Henrie Fetherstone . . . 1626.

5 vols. in 6, folio, with the very rare engraved title dated 1624 to Vol. I (in compartments with a portrait of Purchas, two hemispherical maps, and thirty small medallion portraits of kings, saints, etc.), 7 large engraved maps, and several woodcuts; the inner blank margin of the engraved title re-margined and a few other insignificant tears etc., otherwise a very fine copy bound in red levant morocco gilt, dentelle sides, gilt over marbled edges, by Clarke and Bedford 1624-26 120 0 0

An exceptionally desirable copy containing the very rare engraved title dated 1624 instead of that dated 1625 which usually occurs, and also both the cancelled and cancel leaves G 3 and 4 of Vol. I, the former with the map 'Designatio Orbis Christiani' and the latter with the map 'Typus Orbis Terrarum'.

The indexes of this set are bound separately, forming a sixth volume.

53 ——— Hakluytus Posthumus or Purchas His Pilgrimes. Contayning a History of the World, in Sea Voyages & Lande Travells, by Englishmen & others . . . By Samuel Purchas, B.D. 20 vols., 8vo., cloth 1905-7 6 0 0

The book has never been reprinted before, so that copies of the original edition have now become extremely scarce and costly. The aim of the publishers in issuing this edition was to provide an accurate, complete, and beautifully printed text, from the original edition of 1625. The reprint contains all the original maps (over 70 in number), and curious illustrations; the rare engraved title-page is reproduced in facsimile. The edition of 1625 contains a very inadequate index. This index is superseded in the reprint by a complete index drawn up on modern lines.

54 ROSS (Sir John). Tarleton was lieutenant-colonel in command of the British Legion during the campaign.

This book, independently of its interest as a work of one of the fighting leaders in the war, is of much greater value on account of the original military documents which are printed in it.

	One of the most important voyages ever made in the interests of geographical knowledge. The Third Edition. 4to., the Author's own copy; bound in vellum, the sides bordered with a perforated roll showing a blue background with an inner bordering of ivy sprays, the upper cover with a sepia drawing of Howard visiting a chained and half nude prisoner with a turnkey in the background, the lower cover with a sepia drawing of charity, the back panelled of the same design as the side borders but with an Etruscan vase in each centre, original marbled end paper, gilt edges Warrington, 1784	57	10	0

This is one of the best specimens of an Edwards binding that has ever passed through my hands. Both of the sepia drawings are exquisite examples of his craft, and the gilt borders and the back follow a simplicity of design with a charming effect.

This copy was at one time in the library of Prince Augustus Frederick who has written on the verso of the title, "This Copy of John Howard's Work upon the State of the Prisons Was given me by my friend Sir George Leeds Bart. as the Authors own private Copy. Augustus Frederick Kensington Palace. June the 7th. 1819." It is evident that it was one of his treasured possessions.

A large proportion of the catalogues have the purchasers' names and the prices realised, so the great importance of the work will be apparent. The index of owners' names adds greatly to its utility.

It is impossible to speak in terms too high of this collection of portraits. No display of art can afford us more amusement and gratification. "It is impossible," says Sir Walter Scott, "to conceive a work which ought to be more interesting to the present age." Historical portraits are illustrations of history, and in this collection are comprised the noblest of our fathers as they lived, taken from the authentic paintings of their contemporaries.

"The folio is the only library edition, the plates of which were destroyed after publication. The plan is admirable, and the execution of it throughout is entitled to equal praise."—Dibdin.

This collection has become very rare: a complete copy such as the present is seldom met with. In some copies the smaller plates are printed two on a page, thus causing a difference in the number of leaves in various copies. As a treasury of designs for amateurs and working artists, as well as a criterion of French taste in the time of Louis le Grand, it is invaluable.

270 HOLME (Randle). The Academy of Armory, or, a Storehouse of Armory and Blazon. Containing the several variety of Created Beings, and how born in Coats of Arms, both Foreign and Domestick. With the Instruments used in all Trades and Sciences, together with their Terms of Art. Also the Etymologies, Definitions, and Historical Observations on the same, Explicated and Explained according to our Modern Language . . . By Randle Holme, of the City of Chester, Gentleman Sewer in Extraordinary to his late Majesty King Charles 2. And sometimes Deputy for the Kings of Arms. Folio, with copper-engraved title and plates; the subscription copy of Laurance Fogg, Dean of Chester, with a leaf containing his arms at the beginning; russia gilt, neatly rebacked in calf Chester, Printed for the Author, 1688 16 16 0

VERY RARE. "The author has contrived to amass in this storehouse a vast amount of curious information upon every branch of human knowledge, such as is not to be found in any other work, and of a nature peculiarly adapted to the illustration of the manners and customs of our predecessors, from the highest rank to the lowest menial. It is considered to be one of the most scarce of heraldic books, and that not more than fifty copies are to be found in the kingdom."—Moule. See also Ormerod's Cheshire.

This work holds a very important place in the select circle of books relating to Freemasonry issued in the 17th century. Chapter 9 of Book III has the following paragraph: "I cannot but honor the Felloship of the Masons because of it Antiquity; and the more, as being a member of that Society, called Free-masons: In being conversant amongst them I have observed the use of these severall Tools following, some whereof I have seen born in coats Armour." After which follows the FIRST PRINTED DESCRIPTION of the tools used in Masonic circles.

Some copies have a dedication to King William and Queen Mary, but that may be taken as the special peculiarity of the second issue of the work with a title, "London, 1701," as when the work first appeared William was not king. The present copy contains an EXACT FACSIMILE of the dedication by Harris, Jun. most admirably executed.

numerous smaller engravings; a fine and large copy in red levant morocco extra, gilt edges, by Bedford 1661 18 18 0

The above is one of the rare copies having five plates (Book i, at pages 9, 19, 27, 47 and 59) independent of those on the letterpress, with the impression on both the recto and the verso. Also the plate (Book iii, page 82, but misprinted 84) is repeated on both sides of a separate leaf before the title of Book iii. The plate (Book iii, page 64) is repeated on a separate leaf opposite page 68, with an oval plate pasted on the verso, containing the coats of arms referred to on page 69. The small plate of Coins in the margin of page 103 of Book iii is repeated on page 101. A large engraved genealogical tree of the Howard family (Book iv, page 82) is also added, together with the pages (33) to (40) and the cancel plate of "The Atchievement Of A Baron." Between pages 82 and 83, there are two unpaged leaves, each with an engraving, referring to the added plate at page 82.

The third book commences with two unpaged leaves, not in the Grenville copy. The first of these leaves acts as a separate title and is dated MDCLXIII.

277 ——— the same. Folio, a very fine and tall copy in russia extra, with inside dentelle border, gilt edges 1661 20 0 0

LARGE PAPER. This copy is similar to the preceding except that the three plates (Book iii, pages 64, 82 and 103) are not repeated, and that the engraved genealogical tree of the Howard family is inserted in a different place (Book iv, between pages 112 and 113).

A proof of Morgan's portrait, which forms a portion of the engraved title, is added. This proof was evidently taken before the author's name was engraved in the blank space below the portrait. Morgan has written in this very place: "me jure tenet Sylvanus Morgan Londinensis."

" One has often remarked on the moderate prices at which the Trustees of the British Museum have issued their publications in the past, and it is to be hoped that this book does not mark a permanent change in the policy. But, whatever its cost, every serious student of Chinese paintings must possess it. It provides brief particulars of many more artists than those to whom the four hundred pictures in the Museum collection are ascribed; in fact, it is a comprehensive dictionary of the most notable artists of all periods—the first of its kind in any language. Of special value are the references to extant originals or accessible reproductions of each artist's work. Our grateful appreciation is due to Mr. Waley for achieving so successfully a laborious compilation."—The Burlington Magazine, Feb., 1923.

Daughters of Akhenaten. A coloured plate, painted from the original by Mrs. N. de Garis Davies. Size 7¾ × 6½ ins.	The Egypt Exploration Society, 1921	0	2	6
The picture of the Princesses Nefernefruaten and Nefrurê, seated on a cushion by the side of their mother, Queen Nefertiti, formed part of a much larger scene, painted on the plastered wall of one of the largest private houses in the capital city, Akhenaten (Tell el-Amarna). A strip near the ground was all that survived, and this was cleverly detached and brought away by Prof. Flinders Petrie in 1892. It is now in the Ashmolean Museum, Oxford. The reduction is slightly below half scale.

No incident of the Great War made so strong or so dramatic an appeal to the imagination as the great cavalry campaign which rescued the Holy Land from the infidel and broke the power of the Turkish Empire. In the present work this task has been admirably carried out by the well-known author of "G.H.Q." Major Fox tells in detail the story of a typical English Yeomanry regiment, and at the same time makes clear the general course of the campaign in Syria and Palestine. Occasionally he turns from the story of battles and marches to give vivid pen pictures of scenes and incidents; and although primarily of interest to soldiers, this book is well worth the attention of the general reader.
